Nutrition Education Continued...

- Check sell-by and use-by dates. Make sure you will use it by the use-by date.
- Look down. Stores typically stock more expensive items at eye level. Lower-priced items are often on the bottom or top shelf.

Additional tips:

- If you have a coupon for a brand name product, check the price difference. Often, the store brand is less expensive than the brand name even with the coupon!
- Only use coupons for products you will eat. You may be tempted to buy a product because it's a good price, but if you never eat it you're wasting money.
- Buy frozen fruits and vegetables. They last longer and are just as good for you as fresh.
- Skip the cookie and chip aisle so you aren't tempted to buy unhealthy food.

Your challenge this month is to plan one week of meals and use these tips to buy nutritious foods at the best price!

HEALTHY FOOD ON A BUDGET

TIPS ON HOW TO SHOP FOR NUTRITIOUS FOODS FOR LESS

Choosing healthy food options while living on a tight budget may be a hard task, but it's so important for both mental and physical health. Here are some tips on making the most of your food budget.

Before going to the store:

1. Plan a weekly menu. Remember to add snacks too!
2. See what leftovers need to be eaten and plan a meal or two around them.
3. Have a snack before you go. It will help you stick to your shopping list.
4. Look at the store circular to see if they have items on sale that you like.
5. Buy meat in bulk, then repack into individual portions and freeze.
6. Consider tuna, salmon and eggs because they are low-cost proteins.

While at the store:

- Organize your shopping list by aisle. This will shorten your shopping trip.
- Try store brands. They're often the same quality at a lower price.
- Compare products for the best deal.
